"Let reverence of the law be breathed by every mother to the lisping babe that prattles on her lap; let it be taught in schools, seminaries, and colleges; let it be written in primers, spelling books, and almanacs; let it be preached from pulpits, and proclaimed in legislative halls, and enforced in courts of justice; let it become the political religion of the nation."

TO MEMBERS OF THE SOCIETY,
SONS OF THE REVOLUTION:

Congressman Walter F. Lineberger, introduced in the House of Representatives at the request of this Society, a Bill for the regulation of immigration, their annual registration and requirement of all aliens within the country to pass a suitable examination in speaking, reading and writing of English the same, as well as some other essential requirements for the better understanding by them, of what the United States is and stands for.

This Bill is known as H. R. 4089, and was referred for consideration to the Committee on Immigration and Naturalization.

Congressman John D. Fredericks introduced in the House of Representatives, at the request of this Society, a Bill for the control of immigration to this country, requiring them to pass certain preliminary examinations before receiving a passport to this country; for the control of aliens within our country after admission, and for deportation of aliens who violate the laws of the land.

This Bill is known as H. R. 5628, and was referred for consideration to the Committee on Immigration and Naturalization.

Other Bills bearing upon the general subjects have also been introduced. According to custom, I

TO MEMBERS OF THE SOCIETY,
SONS OF THE REVOLUTION:

Congressman Walter F. Lineberger, introduced in the House of Representatives at the request of this Society, a Bill for the regulation of immigration, their annual registration and requirement of all aliens within the country to pass a suitable examination in speaking, reading and writing of English after being in the United States for a period of seven years, of their deportation in case of failure to do the same, as well as some other essential requirements for the better understanding by them, of what the United States is and stands for.

This Bill is known as H. R. 4089, and was referred for consideration to the Committee on Immigration and Naturalization.

Congressman John D. Fredericks introduced in the House of Representatives, at the request of this Society, a Bill for the control of immigration to this country, requiring them to pass certain preliminary examinations before receiving a passport to this country; for the control of aliens within our country after admission, and for deportation of aliens who violate the laws of the land.

This Bill is known as H. R. 5628, and was referred for consideration to the Committee on Immigration and Naturalization.

Other Bills bearing upon the general subjects have also been introduced. According to custom whatever Bill is finally sent to both houses of Congress for consideration, will probably be a compromise Bill, including points from various Bills placed before them. The result in this case will probably be that whatever Bill is approved by the Committee on Immigration and Naturalization will pass through a similar overhauling.

It is of the greatest importance that every member of this Society and their friends who realize the tremendous need for controlling alien immigration, and their abuse of the wonderful privileges and advantages of this country, using us and our country merely as a place to gain wealth in, without regard to whether they violate our laws or not, should immediately telegraph or write not only Congressmen Lineberger and Fredericks at Washington, but the Committee on Immigration and Naturalization, giving the Committee the name and number of the Bills and urging their recommendation and adoption.

Each member, and all whom he can influence, should also get in touch at once with every available source of influence he possibly can, and telegraph or write, or have written, every Congressman and Senator at Washington, urging the immediate adoption of these Bills.

This should be done in every section of the country. Write your friends, your business associates and others wherever you can, to immediately do the same. This is of the greatest importance, if this late effort that is being made in the United States to save itself, is to result in anything. The foreign influences here are striving in every possible way to defeat this kind of effort. Why? Certainly not for our good, any more than are many of them over here for our good. Not by any means, only for their own selfish interests.

This is an imperative step for every member and friend of this Society to take at once. Send a copy of the telegrams or letters sent by you to our headquarters for filing, if you please. Act today. Now.

No fair-minded alien can take exception to these Bills. Objections can and will arise only from those who do not consider our interests and rights, as ahead of their own.

Cordially yours,

Pinson W. Banning

PRESIDENT

GEORGE WASHINGTON.

FIRST PRESIDENT.

Born February 22nd, 1732, at Bridges Creek, Westmoreland County, Virginia; died December 14th, 1799, at Mount Vernon, Virginia. 67
Term of Office: April 30th, 1789, to March 4th, 1797.

PRESIDENT'S LETTER

To the Members of the Society:

Everyone likes a fighter! An organization with a purpose, that does things, is a magnet! Constructive, aggressive action makes a vital appeal. It attracts thinkers.

This is why we succeed.

No society of our kind in the country is doing more aggressive, constructive work in fighting for the maintenance of American ideals, than the Sons of the Revolution in the State of California. We have followed a more consistent policy the past ten years than any other organization. Our methods get results.

Last year we were the determining factor in defeating the un-American and radical elements who sought election to the Board of Education of Los Angeles.

We fought the release from imprisonment, by the Federal Government, of those in the last war who tried to defeat at home the efforts of our Government to insure victory for the boys at the front.

We were successful in having the California State Legislature pass a bill making compulsory the teaching, in all schools of California, of the history of the Constitution of the United States, and of the State of California.

We nearly succeeded in having a bill passed by the California Legislature prohibiting the use of histories in the schools of California which laud other countries ahead of ours, or which belittle this country. We succeeded in having several states pass such a law, and in having it introduced in others that will make it a law in due course.

We furnished patriotic speakers for many public gatherings.

At headquarters, we added nearly $1,500 worth of the most modern files, fixtures and furniture, making our equipment most efficient in every way.

We submitted for suggestions to our members, to those invited to membership, and to the press of California, copies of a proposed bill for the regulation of immigration to the United States. This brought forth a wonderful response, and unanimous endorsement, resulting in a second bill being prepared. Congressman Walter F. Lineberger and Congressman John D. Fredericks, both members of this Society, introduced these two bills for this Society in the Congress of the United States.

More members joined the California Society last year than ever joined any of our Societies in any year. As our strength and power as an organization lies in our size and the influence of our membership, this shows what a wonderful appeal we are making to the patriotic citizens of the older American stock.

We admitted more young men to membership last year than many Societies have secured from the time of their inception. We are fast becoming a young man's fighting organization for maintaining American ideals. This is the first Society to place a big percentage of the younger men in responsible positions in the work of the organization. They are the ones you have to thank for our present-day leadership among all the Societies of the country. This answers the question why our Society is attracting, in large numbers, the finest type of young men in the Southwest, and why it will continue to do so, in constantly increasing numbers.

Two men stand out in particular, the past year, for our remarkable membership growth. Frederic H. White, of Pasadena, was responsible last year for the filing of more applications for membership than were ever secured by any single member in the same length of time. Frederick Smith Burgess, Jr., made the second best showing. A large number of others came close to his record, and this year expect to better it.

This year, Mr. White challenges any two members of the Society to beat him with new memberships filed from among the best men in the community. Mr. Burgess challenges any of the younger men to equal what he expects to accomplish this year. Dr. Sydney S. Jacquelin is a close third. He challenges any of the older men to secure one-half as many new members this year, as he. Their challenges are being accepted by many. These are some of the reasons why we are forging ahead of all others today!

Are you at work on the squad, or merely cheering from the sidelines? If not, why are you not doing one or the other?

It is not too late for every member to join in this contest, which will advance the cause for which we stand as the leading militant patriotic society of America, that is, strictly non-partisan and non-sectarian. We are not anti- any country, race, nation, or creed, unless that country, race, nation, or creed is anti-American. We have all we can attend to in being strictly pro-American.

Your president, at all times, has sought constructive suggestions from the members and friends of the Society. His policy this year will be the same. Anything that it is felt the Society should undertake, he wishes to know about. With your help, we can accomplish this year far more than we have ever done before. Our influence as an organization lies, to a great extent, in the size of our membership. The greater the membership can be made each year, the more of a power we are bound to become for patriotism, and keeping alive the ideals and principles upon which our fathers founded this country, which we have fallen heir to, and which today we hold in trust for posterity.

Do your part! Get others to! Think, talk, and act, Sons of the Revolution, day and night. By so doing, you will become better men and citizens, and worthy descendants of those who left us this great heritage.

No finer records of accomplishment than ours can be pointed to by any society. If results speak for themselves, they shout for us!

Purposes

THIS Society is non-sectarian and non-partisan in religious and political matters and its purposes are stated in the Constitution, viz.:

"The California Society, Sons of the Revolution, has been incorporated for the purposes of perpetuating among their descendants, the memory of those brave men who periled their lives and fortunes in the War of the Revolution to wrest the American Colonies from British dominion; for the collection and preservation of manuscripts, records, and documents relating to that contest for Independence; for the inspiration among its members and their children of the patriotic spirit of their forefathers; for the inculcation of a love of country and veneration for the principles which are the foundation of our national unity, and the promotion of social intercourse and cordial fellowship among its members."

Eligibility

The following are part of the Constitutional requirements for membership:

Any male person above the age of twenty-one years shall be eligible to membership in the SONS OF THE REVOLUTION who is descended from an ancestor, as the propositus, who, either as a military, naval, or marine officer, soldier, sailor, or marine, or official in the service of any one of the thirteen original Colonies or States, or of the National Government representing or composed of those Colonies or States, assisted in establishing American Independence during the War of the Revolution, between the 19th day of April, 1775, when hostilities commenced, and the 19th day of April, 1783, when they were ordered to cease.

Provided: That when the claim of eligibility is based on the service of an ancestor in the "minute men" or "militia," it must be satisfactorily shown that such ancestor was actually called into the service of the State or United States, and performed garrison or field duty; and

Provided further: That when the claim of eligibility is based on the service of an ancestor as a "sailor" or "marine," it must in like manner be shown that such service was other than shore duty, and regularly performed in the Continental Navy, or the Navy of one of the original thirteen States, or on an armed vessel (other than a merchant ship) which sailed under letters of marque and reprisal, and that such ancestor of the applicant was duly enrolled in the ship's company, either as an officer, seaman, or otherwise than as a passenger; and

Provided further: That when the claim of eligibility is based on the service of an ancestor as an "official," such service must have been performed in the civil service of the United States, or of one of the thirteen original States, and must have been sufficiently important in character to have rendered the official specially liable to arrest and imprisonment, the same as a combatant, if captured by the enemy, as well as liable to conviction of treason against the government of Great Britain.

INITIATION FEE AND DUES

Initiation Fee, $10.00

Annual Dues, $6.00

Life Membership, $100.00

Honorary Membership

Not to exceed ten years' duration. Conferred by Directors for some noted service or gift only upon those already qualified for membership.

ANNUAL MEETING

The fiscal year of the Society begins on January first, and the Annual Election the second Thursday in January, on which date the Annual Meeting is held and the Board of Directors is elected. Officers for the ensuing year are then elected by the Board of Directors. The Annual Banquet is held in May.

CALVIN COOLIDGE.

THIRTIETH PRESIDENT

Born July 4th, 1872, at Plymouth, Vermont.

Term of Office: August 2nd, 1923, to date.

Our Part in the Affairs of the Nation as We are Working Them Out

Chronological History Society, Sons of the Revolution In the State of California for 1923

January 1st, 1923, the California Society had a membership of 898.

January 11th, the Annual Luncheon and Annual Meeting of the Society were held. Rosettes of the Society were sent members of the Society with the compliments of the organization.

January 23rd, fifteen hundred letters were mailed to our members and others to assist in securing new members, and as propaganda in arousing a greater interest in patriotism. Letters were mailed to 2,000 members of the D. A. R. in California with a copy of the Roster of the Society.

February 6th, the Ambassador from Great Britain and the Governor-General of Canada received a letter from this Society requesting a small cannon which, it is claimed, was captured by the British in 1776, in Boston, at the Battle of Bunker Hill, be returned to this country. This was refused. Since this request was made, investigation in the East indicates that no cannon were used at this battle. The one so labeled in the Citadel at Quebec was really taken from a sloop many years after the war was over.

February 8th, resolutions were adopted by the Society calling upon the Board of Education to appoint a committee to conduct an inquiry jointly with a committee from this organization, with reference to the text-books on American History in use in the public schools in Los Angeles.

February 22nd, the Society broadcasted from the radio central station in Los Angeles a program of patriotic talks and music, on the evening of Washington's Birthday. This entire program was heard so clearly, that letters regarding it were received from as far north as the Canadian border, and as far east as the Atlantic Coast.

February 27th, the Society approved the preparation of a Bill recommending that the Government have a medal struck off for all living heirs of Hyam Saloman, for his invaluable financial assistance to the Colonies during the Revolutionary War, and that these medals be presented to the heirs by the President of the United States, assisted by representatives from the Society, Sons of the Revolution in the State of California.

Mrs. E. H. Morse of Pasadena presented to the reference library of the Society Volume 3 of Pasadena Vital Records in Scrap Book form.

Hon. Cornelius Cole became a life member, though past his one hundredth birthday. In taking out a life membership at his age, he paid a high tribute to the ideals for which the Sons of the Revolution stand.

- March 7th, Harry A. Chamberlain introduced a Bill in the California State Senate, at the request of the Society, to require the teaching in schools and colleges of California, of the history of the Constitution of the United States and State of California, to better enable every student to pass intelligent judgment upon untruthful propaganda directed against it. This bill is now on the statutes of the state.
- March 19th, a committee was appointed by the Society to take up the question of the erection of an equestrian statue of Marquis de Lafayette in Lafayette Park.
- March 29th, the Society requested the City Council to change the name of Exposition Park to Washington Park, in honor of our first President.
- April 12th, a telegram was sent to Secretary of State Hughes protesting the United States allowing the admission to this country of any representative of any country that is teaching the overthrow of our form of government.
- April 19th, a luncheon in commemoration of the Battle of Lexington was given by the Society.
- April 24th, a questionnaire was sent to all candidates for the Los Angeles Board of Education. Six questions were asked pertaining to their attitude toward certain fundamental questions of our form of government (and their policy towards it), including the use of the un-American histories in our schools. As a result of this, all radicals were defeated in their attempts to be elected to the School Board.
- April 29th, letters of protest against the repeal of or any amendment to the present Criminal Syndicalism Law of California were sent to all State Assemblymen and Senators, to the press, and to the patriotic societies of California. This proved successful.
- May 16th, the luncheon of the Society, celebrating its Thirtieth Anniversary, was held at the Elite Cafe.
- June 5th, a telegram was sent to the President and the United States Attorney-General, as follows: "Sons of the Revolution in California protest extending leniency to enemies of this Republic now serving sentence for obstructing the draft."
- June 6th, a questionnaire was sent to all members requesting suggestions for developing a constructive program of work for the Society. Valuable suggestions were received, and a great deal of interest aroused in such a program.
- June 7th, the Society sent a stirring letter to all ministers and newspapers in the State, emphasizing the great importance of celebrating Flag Day, June 14th, and of impressing upon each of us our duty to our flag.
- June 18th, Frank Hervey Pettingell was elected Second General Vice-President of the General Society, at the Triennial Convention at Boston.
- June 21st, a campaign was started to raise $1000.00 from among our members to assist in meeting the pay of the militia at their summer training camp, since pay had not been provided for by the State. Nearly the entire amount was secured.
- July 1st, work was begun of indexing various volumes in the library that are used a great deal. An average of four women a day have worked since then, under the supervision of Alpha Christian Dutton.
- July 10th, a life membership was offered to each member of the Society who would bring in ten new members before the end of the year.
- Willis M. Dixon, a delegate to the National Convention, was elected the first delegate from the California Society to membership on the National Council for the year 1923, or until his successor is elected.

August 6th, resolutions of sorrow were passed on the death of President Harding.

August 31st, notices were sent the Press requesting observance by all organizations of "Constitution Week," from September 16th to the 22nd.

September 1st, letters were sent to those invited so far this year to membership with us, for the purpose of stimulating an interest in our work, and the accomplishments of the Society. At the same time, letters were sent to the members for the same purpose, with a return postal card for prospective members.

September 15th, a circular was sent to prospective members, entitled "Why? The Answer," that had been prepared for the purpose of answering questions about the Society, and advantages of membership with us.

October 1st, "The Liberty Bell," the official publication of the Society, was mailed the members, and to a great many libraries and societies in all parts of the United States. This issue contained the pictures of the officers of the Society, and a great many of the younger members active in the work of the Society.

October 11th, the Society sent to members a request for copy of their record in the World War, so the General Society, Sons of the Revolution could issue a certificate of service and insignia to those who served in the World War either with the United States or with the Allies.

October 15th, Walter Sylvester Hertzog offered the Society his valuable collection of historical and genealogical material, if the Society would provide suitable housing for so valuable a gift. It is next largest of its kind to the Henry Huntington collection, according to the press, which placed on it a valuation of over half a million dollars.

October 16th, the Society made a request of County Commissioner Bean for space in the Patriotic Building that Los Angeles County is contemplating building, should it be found desirable to take advantage of such accommodations when they are available.

The Board of Directors recommended the adoption by the members of the Society, of the revised and consolidated Constitution and By-laws of the Society which the Legal Advisory Committee had clarified and brought to date, so that the same could be published for distribution to the members of the Society.

November 1st, bills regulating immigration to this country, and deportation of aliens were mailed to all members of the Society, and those who had been invited to become members, asking their opinion of the same. This awakened a very hearty response.

December 8th, a chest containing papers and records of the A. E. F. of the Fourth Army Corps, in France and Germany, was presented to the Society by Col. Thomas F. Cooke.

December 10th, a letter of protest was sent to the State Board of Education against their considering the protest of the Steuben Society of California, who demanded that they prohibit the use of the schools of the State for the celebrations of Armistice Day and other patriotic events in which the speakers laud the achievements of this country and its allies in the various wars in our history.

December 20th, Congressman Walter F. Lineberger and Congressman John D. Fredericks, both members of this Society, introduced in the Congress of the United States, bills proposed by the Society, for the control of immigration and deportation of aliens from the jurisdiction of the United States.

December 31st, George Griffey, one hundred years of age, became a member of this society.

The gain of new members by this Society, during 1923, was the largest it ever experienced, with a total of 259 members admitted for the year, and with 68 members admitted alone during the month of December. Both records, so far as known, are the largest in the history of any of our Societies.

The total membership of the California Society at the close of this calendar year, was 1,105.

You Should be Familiar With This

Our Constitution is the very heart and life of the nation we love. Other nations the world over have copied it. Evidently, our fathers expected the people of the United States to be familiar with the Constitution in all its essential provisions. Yet there have been thousands of office-holders, under the Federal government and the forty-eight state governments of the Union, who have sworn to support the Constitution, yet have never once read it through! In an average audience of a thousand Americans, how many will you find who have a copy of the Constitution within reach? How many who have "never read it"? Every good American ought to have a copy of it for his own use, easily accessible for reference.

There is a great revival of interest in the Constitution, in these last few years. It is coming to be regarded as more and more manifestly the duty of every man and woman, to know the essential provisions of our Constitution.

SECTION 2. The House of Representatives shall be composed of Members chosen every second Year by the People of the Several States, and the Electors in each State shall have the Qualifications requisite for Electors of the most numerous Branch of the State Legislature.

No Person shall be a Representative who shall not have attained to the Age of twenty-five Years, and been seven Years a Citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an Inhabitant of that State in which he shall be chosen.

*[Representatives and direct Taxes shall be apportioned among the several States which may be included within this Union, according to their respective Numbers, which shall be determined by adding to the whole Number of free Persons, including those bound to Service for a Term of Years, and excluding Indians not taxed, three fifths of all other Persons.] The actual Enumeration shall be made within three Years after the first Meeting of the Congress of the United States, and within every subsequent Term of ten Years, in such Manner as they shall by Law direct. The Number of Representatives shall not exceed one for every thirty Thousand, but each State shall have at Least one Representative; and until such enumeration shall be made, the State of New Hampshire shall be entitled to chuse three, Massachusetts eight, Rhode-Island and Providence Plantations one, Connecticut five; New-York six; New Jersey four, Pennsylvania eight, Delaware one, Maryland six, Virginia ten, North Carolina five, South Carolina five, and Georgia three.

When vacancies happen in the Representation from any State, the Executive Authority thereof shall issue Writs of Election to fill such Vacancies.

The House of Representatives shall chuse their Speaker and other Officers; and shall have the sole Power of Impeachment.

SECTION 3. The Senate, of the United States shall be composed of two Senators from each State, chosen by the Legislature thereof, for Six Years; and each Senator shall have one Vote.

Immediately after they shall be assembled in Consequence of the first Election, they shall be divided as equally as may be into three Classes. The Seats of the Senators of the first Class shall be vacated at the Expiration of the second year, of the second Class at the Expiration of the fourth Year, and of the third Class at the Expiration of the sixth Year, so that one-third may be chosen every second year; and if Vacancies happen by Resignation, or otherwise, during the Recess of the Legislature of any State, the Executive thereof may make temporary Appointments until the next Meeting of the Legislature, which shall then fill such Vacancies.

No Person shall be a Senator who shall not have attained to the Age of thirty Years, and been nine Years a Citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an Inhabitant of that State for which he shall be chosen.

The Vice-President of the United States shall be President of the Senate, but shall have no Vote, unless they be equally divided.

The Senate shall chuse their other Officers, and also a President pro tempore, in the Absence of the Vice President, or when he shall exercise the Office of President of the United States.

The Senate shall have the sole Power to try all Impeachments. When sitting for that Purpose, they shall be on Oath or Affirmation. When the President of the United States is tried, the Chief Justice shall preside: And no Person shall be convicted without the Concurrence of two thirds of the Members present.

*The clause included in brackets is amended by the 14th amendment, 2d section, p. 41.

Judgment in Cases of Impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from Office, and disqualification to hold and enjoy any Office of honor, Trust or Profit under the United States: but the Party convicted shall nevertheless be liable and subject to Indictment, Trial, Judgment and Punishment, according to Law.

SECTION 4. The Times, Places and Manner of holding Elections for Senators and Representatives, shall be prescribed in each State by the Legislature thereof; but the Congress may at any time by Law make or alter such Regulations, except as to the Places of chusing Senators.

The Congress shall assemble at least once in every Year, and such Meeting shall be on the first Monday in December, unless they shall by Law appoint a different Day.

SECTION 5. Each House shall be the Judge of the Elections, Returns and Qualifications of its own Members, and a Majority of each shall constitute a Quorum to do Business; but a smaller Number may adjourn from day to day, and may be authorized to compel the Attendance of absent Members, in such Manner, and under such Penalties as each House may provide.

Each House may determine the Rules of its Proceedings, punish its Members for disorderly Behavior, and, with the Concurrence of two thirds, expel a Member.

Each House shall keep a Journal of its Proceedings, and from time to time publish the same, excepting such Parts as may in their Judgment require Secrecy; and the Yeas and Nays of the Members of either House on any question shall, at the Desire of one fifth of those present, be entered on the Journal.

Neither House, during the Session of Congress, shall, without the Consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other Place than that in which the two Houses shall be sitting.

SECTION 6. The Senators and Representatives shall receive a compensation for their Services, to be ascertained by Law, and paid out of the Treasury of the United States. They shall in all Cases, except Treason, Felony and Breach of the Peace, be privileged from Arrest during their Attendance at the Session of their respective Houses, and in going to and returning from the same; and for any Speech or Debate in either House, they shall not be questioned in any other Place.

No Senator or Representative shall, during the Time for which he was elected, be appointed to any civil Office under the Authority of the United States, which shall have been created, or the Emoluments whereof shall have been encreased during such time; and no Person holding any Office under the United States, shall be a Member of either House during his Continuance in Office.

SECTION 7. All Bills for raising Revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives; but the Senate may propose or concur with Amendments as on other Bills.

Every Bill which shall have passed the House of Representatives and the Senate, shall, before it becomes a Law, be presented to the President of the United States; If he approve he shall sign it, but if not he shall return it, with his Objections, to that House in which it shall have originated, who shall enter the Objections at large on their Journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If after such Reconsideration two thirds of that House shall agree to pass the Bill, it shall be sent, together with the Objections, to the other House, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by two thirds of that House, it shall become a Law. But in all such Cases the Votes of both Houses shall be determined by Yeas and Nays, and the Names of the Persons voting for and against the Bill shall be entered on the Journal of each House respectively. If any Bill shall not be returned by the President within ten Days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the Same shall be a Law, in like Manner as if he had signed it, unless the Congress by their Adjournment prevent its Return, in which Case it shall not be a Law.

Every Order, Resolution, or Vote to which the Concurrence of the Senate and House of Representatives may be necessary (except on a question of Adjournment) shall be presented to the President of the United States; and before the Same shall take Effect, shall be approved by him, or being disapproved by him, shall be repassed by two thirds of the Senate and House of Representatives, according to the Rules and Limitations prescribed in the Case of a Bill.

SECTION 8. The Congress shall have Power To lay and collect Taxes, Duties, Imposts and Excises, to pay the Debts and provide for the common Defence and general Welfare of the United States; but all Duties, Imposts and Excises shall be uniform throughout the United States;

To borrow Money on the credit of the United States;

To regulate Commerce with foreign Nations, and among the several States, and with the Indian Tribes;

To establish a uniform Rule of Naturalization, and uniform Laws on the subject of Bankruptcies throughout the United States;

To coin Money, regulate the Value thereof, and of foreign Coin, and fix the Standard of Weights and Measures;

To provide for the Punishment of counterfeiting the Securities and current Coin of the United States;

To establish Post Offices and post Roads;

To promote the Progress of Science and useful Arts, by securing for limited Times to Authors and Inventors the exclusive Rights to their respective Writings and Discoveries;

To constitute Tribunals inferior to the supreme Court;

To define and punish Piracies and Felonies committed on the high Seas, and Offences against the Law of Nations;

To declare War, grant Letters of Marque and Reprisal, and make Rules concerning Captures on Land and Water;

To raise and support Armies, but no Appropriation of Money to that Use shall be for a longer Term than two years;

To provide and maintain a Navy;

To make Rules for the Government and Regulation of the land and naval Forces;

To provide for calling forth the Militia to execute the Laws of the Union, suppress Insurrections and repel Invasions;

To provide for organizing, arming, and disciplining, the Militia, and for governing such Part of them as may be employed in the Service of the United States, reserving to the States, respectively, the Appointment of the Officers, and the Authority of training the Militia according to the discipline prescribed by Congress;

To exercise exclusive Legislation in all Cases whatsoever, over such District not exceeding ten Miles square) as may, by Cession of particular States, and the Acceptance of Congress, become the Seat of the Government of the United States, and to exercise like Authority over all Places purchased by the Consent of the Legislature of the State in which the Same shall be, for the Erection of Forts, Magazines, Arsenals, dock-Yards, and other needful Buildings;—And

To make all Laws which shall be necessary and proper for carrying into Execution the foregoing Powers, and all other Powers vested by this Constitution in the Government of the United States, or in any Department or Officer thereof.

SECTION 9. The Migration or Importation of such Persons as any of the States now existing shall think proper to admit, shall not be prohibited by the Congress prior to the Year one thousand eight hundred and eight, but a Tax or duty may be imposed on such Importation, not exceeding ten dollars for each Person.

The Privilege of the Writ of Habeas Corpus shall not be suspended, unless when in Cases of Rebellion or Invasion the public Safety may require it.

No Bill of Attainder or ex post facto Law shall be passed.

No Capitation, or other direct, tax shall be laid, unless in Proportion to the Census or Enumeration herein before directed to be taken.

No tax or Duty shall be laid on Articles exported from any State.

No Preference shall be given by any Regulation of Commerce or Revenue to the Ports of one State over those of another: nor shall Vessels bound to, or from, one State, be obliged to enter, clear, or pay Duties in another.

No Money shall be drawn from the Treasury, but in Consequence of Appropriations made by Law; and a regular Statement and Account of the Receipts and Expenditures of all public Money shall be published from time to time.

No Title of Nobility shall be granted by the United States: And no person holding any Office of Profit or Trust under them, shall, without the Consent of the Congress, accept of any present, Emolument, Office, or Title, of any kind whatever, from any King, Prince, or foreign State.

SECTION 10. No State shall enter into any Treaty, Alliance, or Confederation; grant Letters of Marque and Reprisal; coin Money, emit Bills of Credit; make any Thing but gold and silver Coin a Tender in Payment of Debts; pass any Bill of Attainder, ex post facto Law, or Law impairing the Obligation of Contracts, or grant any Title of Nobility.

No State shall, without the Consent of the Congress, lay any Imposts or Duties on Imports or Exports, except what may be absolutely necessary for executing its inspection Laws: and the net Produce of all Duties and Imposts, laid by any State on Imports or Exports, shall be for the Use of the Treasury of the United States; and all such Laws shall be subject to the Revision and Control of the Congress.

No State shall, without the Consent of Congress, lay any Duty of Tonnage, keep Troops, or Ships of War in time of Peace, enter into any Agreement or Compact with another State, or with a foreign Power, or engage in War, unless actually invaded, or in such imminent Danger as will not admit of delay.

ARTICLE II.

SECTION 1. The executive Power shall be vested in a President of the United States of America. He shall hold his Office during the Term of four Years, and, together with the Vice President chosen for the same Term, be elected, as follows

Each State shall appoint in such Manner as the Legislature thereof may direct, a Number of Electors, equal to the whole Number of Senators and Representatives to which the State may be entitled in the Congress: but no Senator or Representative, or Person holding an Office of Trust or Profit under the United States, shall be appointed an Elector.

["The electors shall meet in their respective State, and vote by ballot for two Persons, of whom one at least shall not be an Inhabitant of the same State with themselves. And they shall make a List of all the Persons voted for, and of the Number of Votes for each; which List they shall sign and certify, and transmit sealed to the Seat of the Government of the United States, directed to the President of the Senate. The President of the Senate shall, in the Presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open all the Certificates, and the Votes shall then be counted. The Person having the greatest Number of Votes shall be the President, if such Number be a Majority of the whole Number of Electors appointed; and if there be more than one who have such Majority, and have an equal Number of Votes, then the House of Representatives shall immediately chuse by Ballot one of them for President; and if no Person have a Majority, then from the five highest on the List the said House shall in like Manner chuse the President. But in chusing the President, the Votes shall be taken by States, the Representation from each State having one Vote; A quorum for this Purpose shall consist of a Member or Members from two-thirds of the States, and a Majority of all the States shall be necessary to a Choice. In every Case, after the Choice of the President, the Person having the greatest Number of Votes of the Electors shall be the Vice-President. But if there should remain two or more who have equal Votes, the Senate shall chuse from them by Ballot the Vice-President.”]

This clause has been superseded by the twelfth amendment.)

The Congress may determine the Time of chusing the Electors, and the Day on which they shall give their Votes; which Day shall be the same throughout the United States.

No Person except a natural born Citizen, or a Citizen of the United States, at the time of the Adoption of this Constitution, shall be eligible to the Office of President; neither shall any Person be eligible to that Office who shall not have attained to the age of thirty-five Years, and been fourteen Years a Resident within the United States.

In Case of the Removal of the President from Office, or of his Death, Resignation, or Inability to discharge the Powers and Duties of the said Office, the same shall devolve on the Vice-President, and the Congress may by Law provide for the Case of Removal, Death, Resignation, or Inability, both of the President and Vice-President, declaring what Officer shall then act as President, and such Officer shall act accordingly, until the Disability be removed, or a President shall be elected.

The President shall, at stated Times, receive for his Services, a Compensation, which shall neither be encreased nor diminished during the Period for which he shall have been elected, and he shall not receive within that Period any other Emolument from the United States, or any of them.

Before he enter on the Execution of his Office, he shall take the following Oath or Affirmation:—“I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully execute the Office of President of the United States, and will to the best of my Ability, preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States.”

SECTION 2. The President shall be Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy of the United States, and of the Militia of the several States, when called into the actual Service of the United States; he may require the Opinion, in writing, of the principal Officer in each of the executive Departments, upon any Subject relating to the Duties of their respective Offices, and he shall have Power to grant Reprieves and Pardons for Offenses against the United States, except in Cases of Impeachment.

He shall have Power, by and with the Advice and Consent of the Senate, to make Treaties, provided two thirds of the Senators present concur; and he shall nominate, and by and with the Advice and Consent of the Senate, shall appoint Ambassadors, other public Ministers and Consuls, Judges of the supreme Court, and all other Officers of the United States, whose Appointments are not herein otherwise provided for, and which shall be established by Law: but the Congress may by Law vest the Appointment of such inferior Officers, as they think proper, in the President alone, in the Courts of Law, or in the Heads of Departments.

The President shall have Power to fill up all Vacancies that may happen during the Recess of the Senate, by granting Commissions which shall expire at the End of their next Session.

SECTION 3. He shall from time to time give to the Congress Information of the State of the Union, and recommend to their Consideration such Measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient; he may, on extraordinary Occasions, convene both Houses, or either of them, and in Case of Disagreement between them, with Respect to the Time of Adjournment, he may adjourn them to such Time as he shall think proper; he shall receive Ambassadors and other public Ministers; he shall take Care that the Laws be faithfully executed, and shall Commission all the Officers of the United States.

SECTION 4. The President, Vice-President and all civil Officers of the United States, shall be removed from Office on Impeachment for, and Conviction of, Treason, Bribery, or other high Crimes and Misdemeanors.

ARTICLE III.

SECTION 1. The judicial Power of the United States, shall be vested in one supreme Court, and in such inferior Courts as the Congress may from time to time ordain, and establish. The Judges, both of the supreme and inferior Courts, shall hold their Offices during good Behaviour, and shall, at stated Times, receive for their Services, a Compensation, which shall not be diminished during their Continuance in Office.

SECTION 2. The judicial Power shall extend to all Cases, in Law and Equity, arising under this Constitution, the Laws of the United States, and Treaties made, or which shall be made, under their Authority;—to all Cases affecting Ambassadors, other public Ministers and Consuls;—to all Cases of admiralty and maritime Jurisdiction;—to Controversies to which the United States shall be a Party;—to Controversies between two or more States;—between a State and Citizens of another State;—between Citizens of different States,—between Citizens of the same State claiming Lands under Grants of different States, and between a State, or the Citizens thereof, and foreign States, Citizens or Subjects.

In all Cases affecting Ambassadors, other public Ministers and Consuls, and those in which a State shall be Party, the supreme Court shall have original Jurisdiction. In all the other Cases before mentioned, the supreme Court shall have appellate Jurisdiction, both as to Law and Fact, with such Exceptions, and under such Regulations as the Congress shall make.

The Trial of all Crimes, except in Cases of Impeachment, shall be by Jury; and such Trial shall be held in the State where the said Crimes shall have been committed; but when not committed within any State, the Trial shall be at such Place or Places as the Congress may by Law have directed.

SECTION 3. Treason against the United States, shall consist only in levying War against them, or in adhering to their Enemies, giving them Aid and Comfort. No Person shall be convicted of Treason unless on the Testimony of two Witnesses to the same overt act, or on Confession in open Court.

The Congress shall have Power to declare the Punishment of Treason, but no Attainder of Treason shall work Corruption of Blood, or Forfeiture except during the Life of the Person attainted.

ARTICLE IV.

SECTION 1. Full Faith and Credit shall be given in each State to the public Acts, Records, and judicial Proceedings of every other State. And the Congress may by general Laws prescribe the Manner in which such Acts, Records and Proceedings shall be proved, and the Effect thereof.

SECTION 2. The Citizens of each State shall be entitled to all Privileges and Immunities of Citizens in the several States.

A person charged in any State with Treason, Felony, or other Crime, who shall flee from Justice, and be found in another State, shall on Demand of the executive Authority of the State from which he fled, be delivered up to be removed to the State having Jurisdiction of the Crime.

No Person held to Service or Labour in one State, under the Laws thereof, escaping into another, shall, in Consequence of any Law or Regulation therein, be discharged from such Service or Labour, but shall be delivered up on Claim of the Party to whom such Service or Labour may be due.

SECTION 3. New States may be admitted by the Congress into this Union; but no new State shall be formed or erected within the Jurisdiction of any other State; nor any State be formed by the Junction of two or more States, or Parts of States, without the Consent of the Legislatures of the States concerned as well as of the Congress.

The Congress shall have Power to dispose of and make all needful Rules and Regulations respecting the Territory or other Property belonging to the United States; and nothing in this Constitution shall be so construed as to Prejudice any Claims of the United States, or of any particular State.

SECTION 4. The United States shall guarantee to every State in this Union a Republican Form of Government, and shall protect each of them against Invasion; and on Application of the Legislature, or of the Executive (when the Legislature cannot be convened) against domestic Violence.

ARTICLE V.

The Congress, whenever two thirds of both Houses shall deem it necessary, shall propose Amendments to this Constitution, or, on the Application of the Legislatures of two thirds of the several States, shall call a Convention for proposing Amendments, which, in either Case, shall be valid to all Intents and Purposes, as Part of this Constitution, when ratified by the Legislatures of three fourths of the several States, or by Conventions in three fourths thereof, as the one or the other Mode of Ratification may be proposed by the Congress; Provided that no Amendment which may be made prior to the Year One thousand eight hundred and eight shall in any Manner affect the first and fourth Clauses in the Ninth Section of the first Article; and that no State, without its Consent, shall be deprived of its equal Suffrage in the Senate.

ARTICLE VI.

All Debts contracted and Engagements entered into, before the adoption of this Constitution, shall be as valid against the United States under this Constitution, as under the Confederation.

This Constitution, and the Laws of the United States which shall be made in Pursuance thereof; and all Treaties made, or which shall be made, under the Authority of the United States, shall be the supreme Law of the Land; and the Judges in every State shall be bound thereby, any Thing in the Constitution or Laws of any State to the Contrary notwithstanding.

The Senators and Representatives before mentioned, and the Members of the several State Legislatures, and all executive and judicial Officers, both of the United States and of the several States, shall be bound by Oath or Affirmation, to support this Constitution; but no religious Test shall ever be required as a Qualification to any Office or public Trust under the United States.

ARTICLE VII.

The Ratification of the Conventions of nine States, shall be sufficient for the Establishment of this Constitution between the States so ratifying the Same.

DONE in Convention by the Unanimous Consent of the States present the Seventeenth Day of September in The Year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and Eighty seven, and of the Independence of the United States of America the Twelfth.

[ARTICLE I.]

(First ten amendments adopted June 15, 1790)

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances.

[ARTICLE II.]

A well regulated Militia, being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear Arms, shall not be infringed.

[ARTICLE III.]

No Soldier shall, in time of peace be quartered in any house, without the consent of the Owner, nor in time of war, but in a manner to be prescribed by law.

[ARTICLE IV.]

The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no Warrants shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by Oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized.

[ARTICLE V.]

No person shall be held to answer for a capital, or otherwise infamous crime, unless on a presentment or indictment of a Grand Jury, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the Militia, when in actual service in time of War or public danger; nor shall any person be subject for the same offense to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; nor shall be compelled in any Criminal Case to be a witness against himself, nor be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor shall private property be taken for public use, without just compensation.

[ARTICLE VI.]

In all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury of the State and district wherein the crime shall have been committed, which district shall have been previously ascertained by law, and to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation; to be confronted with the witnesses against him; to have compulsory process for obtaining Witnesses in his favor, and to have the Assistance of Counsel for his defence.

[ARTICLE VII.]

In suits at common law, where the value in controversy shall exceed twenty dollars, the right of trial by jury shall be preserved, and no fact tried by a jury shall be otherwise re-examined in any Court of the United States, than according to the rules of the common law.

[ARTICLE VIII.]

Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel and unusual punishments inflicted.

[ARTICLE IX.]

The enumeration in the Constitution, of certain rights, shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people.

[ARTICLE X.]

The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people.

[ARTICLE XI.]

(Adopted January 8, 1798)

The Judicial power of the United States shall not be construed to extend to any suit in law or equity, commenced or prosecuted against one of the United States by Citizens of another State, or by Citizens or Subjects of any Foreign State.

[ARTICLE XII.]

(Adopted September 25, 1804)

The Electors shall meet in their respective states, and vote by ballot for President and Vice-President, one of whom, at least, shall not be an inhabitant of the same state with themselves; they shall name in their ballots the person voted for as President, and in distinct ballots the person voted for as Vice-President, and they shall make distinct lists of all persons voted for as President, and of all persons voted for as Vice-President, and of the number of votes for each, which lists they shall sign and certify, and transmit sealed to the seat of the government of the United States, directed to the President of the Senate;—The President of the Senate shall, in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open all the certificates and the votes shall then be counted;—The person having the greatest number of votes for President, shall be the President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of Electors appointed; and if no person have such majority, then from the persons having the highest numbers not exceeding three on the list of those voted for as President, the House of Representatives shall choose immediately, by ballot, the President. But in choosing the President, the votes shall be taken by states, the representation from each state having one vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the states, and a majority of all the states shall be necessary to a choice. And if the House of Representatives shall not choose a President whenever the right of choice shall devolve upon them, before the fourth day of March next following, then the Vice-President shall act as President, as in the case of the death or other constitutional disability of the President. The person having the greatest number of votes as Vice-President, shall be the Vice-President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of Electors appointed, and if no person have a majority, then from the two highest numbers on the list, the Senate shall choose the Vice-President; a quorum for the purpose shall consist of two-thirds of the whole number of Senators, and a majority of the whole number shall be necessary to a choice. But no person constitutionally ineligible to the office of President shall be eligible to that of Vice-President of the United States.

[ARTICLE XIII.]

(Adopted December 18, 1865)

SECTION 1. Neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall exist within the United States, or any place subject to their jurisdiction.

SECTION 2. Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

[ARTICLE XIV.]

(Adopted July 21, 1868)

SECTION 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

SECTION 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State, excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice-President of the United States, Representatives in Congress, the Executive and Judicial officers of a State, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State, being twenty-one years of age, and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged, except for participation in rebellion, or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.

SECTION 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice-President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States, or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath, as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.

SECTION 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States, authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims shall be held illegal and void.

SECTION 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce, by appropriate legislation, the provisions of this article.

[ARTICLE XV.]

(Adopted March 30, 1870)

SECTION 1. The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude.

SECTION 2. The Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

[ARTICLE XVI.]

(Adopted February 25, 1913)

The Congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes on incomes, from whatever source derived, without apportionment among the several States, and without regard to any census or enumeration.

[ARTICLE XVII.]

(Adopted May 31, 1913)

The Senate of the United States shall be composed of two Senators from each State, elected by the people thereof, for six years; and each Senator shall have one vote. The electors in each State shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the State legislatures.

When vacancies happen in the representation of any State in the Senate, the executive authority of such State shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies: Provided, That the legislature of any State may empower the executive thereof to make temporary appointments until the people fill the vacancies by election as the legislature may direct.

This amendment shall not be so construed as to affect the election or term of any Senator chosen before it becomes valid as a part of the Constitution.

[ARTICLE XVIII.]

(Adopted January 29, 1919)

SECTION 1. After one year from the ratification of this article the manufacture, sale, or transportation of intoxicating liquors within, the importation thereof into, or the exportation thereof from the United States and all territory subject to the jurisdiction thereof for beverage purposes is hereby prohibited.

SECTION 2. The Congress and the several States shall have concurrent power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

SECTION 3. This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the Constitution by the legislatures of the several States, as provided in the Constitution, within seven years from the date of the submission hereof to the States by the Congress.

[ARTICLE XIX.]

(Adopted August 26, 1920)

The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of sex.

Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

SOME COMMENTS ON THE CONSTITUTION

"The basis of our political system is the right of the people to make and to alter their constitutions of government; but the Constitution which at any time exists, till changed by an explicit and authentic act of the whole people, is sacredly obligatory upon all. The very idea of the power and the right of the people to establish government presupposes the duty of every individual to obey the established government."

—GEORGE WASHINGTON.

"To what purpose are powers limited, and to what purpose is that limitation committed to writing, if these limits may, at any time, be passed by those intended to be restrained? . . . It would be giving to the legislature a practical and real omnipotence with the same breath which professes to restrict their powers to narrow limits. It is prescribing limits, and declaring that those limits may be passed at pleasure. That it thus reduces to nothing what we have deemed the greatest improvement on political institutions, a written constitution, would of itself be sufficient in America, where written constitutions have been viewed with so much reverence, for rejecting the construction."

—CHIEF JUSTICE MARSHALL.

"Our history hitherto proves that the popular form (of government) is practicable, and that, with wisdom and knowledge, men may govern themselves; and the duty incumbent on us is to preserve the consistency of this cheering example, and take care that nothing may weaken its authority with the world. If, in our case, the representative system ultimately fail, popular government must be pronounced impossible. No combination of circumstances more favorable to the experiment can ever be expected to occur. The last hopes of mankind, therefore, rest with us; and if it should be proclaimed that our example had become an argument against the experiment, the knell of popular liberty would be sounded throughout the earth."

—DANIEL WEBSTER.

"The colonial states were in existence before the Federal Constitution was adopted. These colonies, after they severed their relations with England, were in position to pass any law, and do any act their people voted for. When the colonies adopted the Federal Constitution, they surrendered such rights as the Federal Constitution contained, and no more."

"The Government created by the Federal Constitution, is one of limited and enumerated powers. Whatever rights and powers are not conferred by the Federal Constitution, remain in, and belong to the several states, or to the people thereof."

"Any state, acting properly through its people, can adopt any law it desires, if the same does not conflict with the Federal Constitution, or powers thereunder."
